Baby Tank Sports on the Streets of Monett in the Interest of Fifth Loan. Many in Town.

A real battle tank was brought to Monett, Friday, in the interest of the Liberty Loan and was put through many maneuvers on the streets of the city by Private Clyde Jones. On account of the muddy condition of the roads the exhibition was confined mostly to the paved streets, although the tank went through Kelley creek and over various obstacles placed in way.

Accompanying the tank were Major Jos. Wheeler, Lieutenant Robert Hedges, Sergeant O. O. Williams, Private Clyde Jones, Ira Fisher, Paul Peltason and E. E. Speer. At a big meeting at the Bijou theatre the crowd was addressed by Lieut. Hedges and Mr. Peltason. A number of Liberty Bond subscriptions were given at this meeting.

Owing to a heavy rain which fell Thursday night and Friday morning, comparatively few out of town people were able to get here.

MOTORISTS SHOULD REMOVE ALL GLASS

Every motorist owes a duty to himself and all other drivers to stop his car and remove from the highway all broken glass or other substance dangerous to tires which he notices in his travels.

The United States Tire company recommends that a small brush or broom be made part of the equipment of each automobile and that the automobile owners of the country pledge themselves to stop their cars and sweep off from the highway any glass or harmful substance encountered. If each automobilist would follow such a policy it would not be necessary for the average man to remove glass more than a few times a year.

When a cluster of broken bits of glass is allowed to remain on a highway until it has been entirely swept off by tires or carried away embedded in tires, probably hundreds of cars have their tires more or less injured before the glass disappears. If it is removed by the first man who sees it, hundreds of other machines are free from danger of tire trouble.

One thing is certain—the person who drops bottles on the highway for the pleasure of hearing them break has become very unpopular and is going to become more so.

BIG SALES REPORTED FROM TANK TRAINS

Visiting Several Towns Daily, the Crews Are Getting Splendid Results.

The eleven tank trains sent through out the Eighth Federal Reserve District are meeting with a general hearty response in the way of subscriptions, according to reports submitted to the district headquarters for the first day. Each of the trains, carrying a personnel of one or two speakers, a bond salesman, a battle tank of 14,000 pounds weight with two members of the tank corps in charge, make two, three or four towns daily.

Each train is made up of a baggage car for storage, literature, gasoline; one sleeper, and a gondola on which the tank is carried. Thousands upon thousands visit and inspect the exhibit daily. It was no unusual thing for the report of the first day's trip to state that "we stopped at Smithville where 5000 people visited the train during the stop and inspected the tank. We sold $45,000 of bonds. The people were enthusiastic." That report is not exact for any town, but it embodies the essence of a large majority of the statements received from the men in charge of the trains.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS AID HOME CAMPAIGN

When Construction Work Starts on War Memorials Private Projects Are Encouraged.

Since war memorials were first discussed after the signing of the armistice, the Municipal Art Society of New York City has been carrying on a campaign to protect the country against monuments and statues that offend lovers of what is beautiful and appropriate. Various bulletins have been sent out, and emphasis is placed on the fact that the most fitting tribute to the heroic dead is not necessarily a funeral of granite or marble, but a utilitarian structure that may benefit the living.

Club women in many States are now interested in promoting war memorials, and according to reports that they are sending to the United States Department of Labor many organizations are in favor of community buildings. Among these are libraries, comfort stations, and clubhouses, as well as auditoriums, hospitals, and recreation centers that are to provide wholesome amusement. Theatres also are now being discussed with the idea that by means of great plays the highest ideals of life may be inculcated.

In view of the closing of saloons the women's clubs are discussing substitutes that will afford meeting places where it will be possible to pass an evening independently or in the enjoyment of certain amusements. Club houses with dancing pavilions, motion-picture theatres, and tea rooms have found favor in two western towns.

By starting a community building in a town or city public interest will be focused on construction and private projects will be encouraged, it is believed. The "own your own home" organizations now being formed in more than 100 cities will be well fitted to push these war memorials, and for that reason inquiries concerning possible suggestions as to types of structures have a wide possibility.

WAR TIME DRY ACT WILL BE ENFORCED

Ban To Be Placed on Production And Sale of All Beers and Wines.

New York, April 24.—The government proposes a literal enforcement of the war time prohibition act, including a ban on production and sale of all beers and wines, whether or not they are intoxicating, the department of justice announced through a special representative in the federal court here today.

While no steps will be taken to prevent brewing, pending a court determination of the laws constitutionality raised by brewers of the New York district, manufacturers will operate in peril of future prosecution, according to the statement of William C. Fitts, special counsel appearing for Attorney General Palmer in the beer litigation.

The attorney advised Judge A. N. Hand, who heard arguments on the government's motion to dismiss the suit brought on behalf of the rational brewing interests, by the Jacob Hoffman Brewing Company, to restrain the federal authorities from interfering with its production of 2% per cent beer, that the department of justice did not know and did not care whether beer of the strength indicated was intoxicating.
